The Health Living Partnership of Niagara County is offering a $10 Wal-Mart gift card to people who complete cancer screening through the program. The Healthy Living Partnership offers free breast, cervical and colorectal cancer screenings for individuals who have no health insurance, high deductibles or co-pays. The program is part of The Niagara County Department of Health, and is funded through the New York State Department of Health Bureau of Chronic Disease and Cancer Services Program.

Women age 40 and older can receive free mammograms and clinical breast exams along with cervical cancer screenings. Both, women and men age 50 through 64 can be screened for colorectal cancer by a simple take-home test. Follow-up treatment and case management is available if necessary.
